Pioneers, Poets, and Mystics

Women Composers for Treble Voices, with Kathy Saltzman Romey
July 18-24, 2021: Burlington, Vermont and Lake Placid, New York

Retreat to the peaceful New England lakes with a program of music entirely for soprano and alto voices, with a special emphasis on women composers. Led by Kathy Saltzman Romey, of the University of Minnesota, Minnesota Chorale, and Oregon Bach Festival, this program brings history and current events together. Repertoire spans over the centuries honoring women from all walks of life, including two world premieres.

The two towns of Burlington, Vermont and Lake Placid, New York are known far and wide as peaceful and charming mountain villages. Cultural highlights include sites of early American history like the Ethan Allen House and the Shelburne Museum, and enrichment opportunities abound, like summer music performances, hiking and kayaking for those interested, and wine-tasting in local vineyards. Relax lakeside in the breathtaking New England summer air, and safely enjoy the company of fellow lovers of choral music.

SAFETY

Classical Movements takes your safety seriously, and we have designed every facet of our Choral Escapes program with your health and well-being in mind. Social distancing, singing masks, and aeration breaks will be implemented at all times during indoor and outdoor rehearsals or performances, and special care has been taken to engage venues and vendors that are respectful of COVID safety restrictions. Hotel rooms will be limited to individuals or household groups, and masks and distancing will be required for any group transportation, like motor coach rides.

For more information, view our Health and Safety guidelines document, accessible via the registration form linked above. Other terms and conditions apply.

Performance has been de-emphasized for these programs, to allow for flexibility and less pressure in rehearsals, and to further facilitate the mission of the Choral Escapes program, which is...
